LWV Oppose New Jail Facility

Although there is a genuine need to improve the county jail, the League of Women Voters believes that there are less expensive and more effective ways of accomplishing this goal than by spending $3.2 million for a new 200-capacity jail facility.

The county jail is used principally for holding accused arrestees awaiting court action, most of whom are under felony charges and financially unable to post bail. According to the California Bureau of Criminal Statistics less than 18 percent of all felony charges in Monterey County result in felony convictions, 40 percent are not found

Crime Abatement Committee Appointed; Names Target

The Community Crime Abatement Committee (CCAC) set drug abuse as the prime project that "must begin immediately" at last Saturday's workshop meeting held at Seaside High School.

The workshop, under the auspices of Duke & Duke Associates, was chaired by Mayor Joe Dolan, who appointed Rev. H.H. Lusk, Bethel Baptist Church, as chairman of the CCAC Drug Prevention committee.

The committee was instructed to present a positive program for the reduction of drug related crime problems at the next meeting, which will be held Monday night, August 27, at the City Council chambers.

Appointed to the committee to assist Rev. Lusk were; Lee Toler, Young Adults For Action director; Ben Turner; Ms. Cynthia Truitt; Bill Gullett; Tony Mosier; and Tom Nash.

The workshop pointed out the dire need for action to abate crime in the Seaside community, and brought members from as far away as Sacramento to speak to the committee.

"Ours is a crime prevention and abatement committee," Mayor Dolan said, "and if we begin now, we can be successful."

THE FIRST OF ITS KIND

The Seaside Community Crime Abatement Committee is the first of its kind in the country. It will have its headquarters in City Hall and will work with existing agencies in the prevention of crime in the community.

In addition to the prevention of crimes, the committee:

Will seek job placements for offenders who are being released from confinement.

Will institute a community and business education program to assist in the readjustment of persons in confinement.

Will counsel parolees and probationers in job related matters.

Will act as a clearing house for related information pertaining to employment.

Will serve as a community awareness education organization.

Will hold monthly meetings to update all members in the success of the program.

The meeting was attended by some 23 people representing all segments of the communities existing in Seaside.

Gets Grant To Study Black Heritage

President John H. Bunzel of California State University, San Jose, recently announced that the Carnegie Corporation of New York has awarded the University a $459,000 research grant to document Black heritage and genealogy.

Dr. Leonard Jeffries, University Black studies professor, is coordinating the project and directing the oral history part of the two-year study. His research will take him and several scholars throughout the United States, Africa, Brazil, and the West Indies.

The ultimate goal of the Carnegie project is the establishment of the nation's first specialized repository of Black heritage and genealogical materials to be known as the Kinte Library. The library--to be located in Washington, D.C.--will take its name from the African clan of Kinte to which Black writer Alex Haley traced his roots.

Haley himself serves as special consultant to the project, and is, according to Jeffries, "the real inspiration and cement that holds the study together."

Jeffries, Haley and eight other researchers will be working under the general direction of Dr. Lawrence Reddick, professor of history at Temple

Special Days At Fair Are Announced

TWO TOUGH CRITTERS - Fearless charro rides wild-eyed steer as part of Tony Aguilar's Mexican Rodeo which will be presented at the Monterey County Fair this year. On Tuesday and Wednesday, August 14 and 15, in Pattee Arena Mexico's top movie and recording star will present his fast-paced and popular show which just completed an engagement at Cow Palace in San Francisco.

Clowns, crowds, cotton candy, carnival--these are all part of the Monterey County Fair being held this week at the Fairgrounds in Monterey.

Also part of the Fair are the thousands of exhibits in the home economics floriculture, agriculture, art, crafts, photography, livestock, 4-H and Future Farmers of America divisions, plus free entertainment on the outdoor stage and special events in Pattee Arena.

Thursday, Aug. 16, is Kids' Day, with children under 12 admitted free until 6 p.m., and, appropriately enough, the arena attraction that day and Friday is Polak Bros. Circus.

On Saturday and Sunday the International Water Follies will bring water ballet and diving exhibitions combined with a stage show into the arena. Roger Nadeau, former New England diving champion and a "water comedian," is one of the featured performers, along with Mary Dwight, synchronized swimming champion; Clive Dyson, former Australian diving champion; and James Barcley, acrobatic diver.

On Friday, senior citizens will be admitted at half price until 6 p.m., and on the stage at 1 p.m. the Mid-County Senior Choraliers will present a program of music, song, dance and dialogue, with a waltz number as the finale.

At 10 a.m. Sunday the Junior Livestock Auction will be conducted, with individuals and businesses in the county bidding on the animals raised by FFA and 4-H young people. The Bank of America handles all the paper work for the auction, and hosts a breakfast for the young people on Sunday morning.

Two educational demonstrations are planned for Friday afternoon in the dairy ring. At 2 p.m. Richard Fleming, a professional sheep shearer, will explain the clippers and go through the shearing process, step by step. At 3 p.m. the 4-H junior dairy leaders will give a cow milking demonstration, using a portable electric milking machine.

Entertainment on the outdoor stage offers a variety of local acts, with musician-comedian Bernie Burns the professional headliner. Jan Kessler's Mime Troupe, a dance program created for the Fair by Ballet de Patrice, and judo-jujitsu-karate exhibitions from two local academies, the Fremont Marimba Serenaders from Salinas, and at 6 p.m. nightly a featured ban are all part of the free entertainment. On Saturday night the Sounds of Persuasion will play, and on Sunday, Fragile.

Two clowns, Tiny and Barbie, are roaming the grounds to delight Fairgoers of all ages, Barbie accompanied by her invisible dog, Slyvester. And the carnival is in full swing until the 11 p.m. closing hour.

"This is the best Fair ever," said Les Dixon, Fair board president.

MPUSD School Registration Is Underway

Registration for the 1973-74 school year begins Monday (Aug. 20) throughout the Monterey Peninsula Unified School District. School starts on Sept. 4.

All new students must register at their schools, Supt. James C. Harrison announced. Both new and returning students have to register at Fort Ord's four elementary schools, he said. It had been announced earlier that returning students had to register at La Mesa School, but Principal Svend Nielsen said only new students must register there.

Registration can be accomplished at any of the schools between 9 a.m. and noon or from 1 to 3 p.m.

Mary Ellen / Social Editor

Articles scheduled to be published this week will be printed in the next issue.

The Mary Ellen column is dedicated to Andrew Edward Barragan, who departed this world on Tuesday, August 7.

Andy, was a giant of a man. A devoted husband, loving father and brother, and a true friend. He served his county, and the communities in which he lived well. Andy was a faithful member of his church and enjoyed giving of himself. He was graced with an unusual gift and demonstrated his belief. Where there was hatred, he sowed love; where there was injury, pardon; where there was doubt, faith; where there was despair, hope; where there was darkness, light; and where there was sadness, joy.

When the Golden Sun is setting
And this earth, Andy, no more you trod.

Society Of 1st Division Seeking Widows Of Men Killed In Vietnam

The newly-formed Fort Ord Chapter of the Society of the First Division is seeking out widows of the men of the division killed in Vietnam and former members of the "Big Red One."

"We are anxious to contact the widows of our former comrades-in-arms to assist their children in applying for society scholarships," said Colonel Henry J. Wereszynski, President of the Chapter.

"Formerly," he said, "only the sons of division personnel killed in Vietnam were eligible, but now the daughters, as well, may apply."

The scholarships range in amount up to $2000 and are available for use at any college, university, technical or vocational school.

The Society, in addition, offers one $1000 scholarship annually, based on scholastic excellence and on an original essay. Sons and daughters of any man who has served in the 1st Infantry Division and present members of the division who plan to enter college after their discharge from the service, are eligible to compete.

The Fort Ord Chapter is seeking active duty and retired former members of the "Big Red One" to bolster its ranks. At present, there are approximately 50 members, and it is hoped that the chapter will eventually number 200.

"We plan to hold formal meetings about once every two months and to have other informal social gatherings," Colonel Wereszynski explained.

Widows of 1st Division personnel and former division personnel, who desire to learn more about the society, are urged to contact Colonel Wereszynski, Directorate of Plans and Training, Fort Ord, CA 93941.

A non-host Social Hour for prospective members will be held at 6 p.m. August 16 at the Fort Ord Non-Commissioned Officers' Club.

Fuel Gauge

A Fuel Gauge Report, compiled by the California State Automobile Association (AAA), covers the situation regarding automotive fuel availability for the week beginning last Friday.

The reports said, for the coastal zone south of San Jose (including U.S. 101 and S.R. 1), that daytime travelers should encounter no fuel problems along either highway, but caution continues to be advised for night and Sunday driving.

CSUSJ Gets Grant

University, Philadelphia. Reddick also is heading the written phase of the project.

Commenting on the Carnegie grant, Dr. Bunzel said, "Black heritage is an area in which scholarship should be encouraged. The collaboration of Dr. Reddick, Dr. Jeffries, Mr. Haley and several other scholars will undoubtedy result in a valuable contribution to the research materials and methodology of the Back experience."

Dr. Gail Fullerton, dean of graduate studies who is administering the funds for the Carnegie project, noted it is the largest research grant ever awarded by the Carnegie Corporation.

According to the Carnegie grant researchers, there is no U.S. repository where a Black American may go and receive specialized information and assistance, and find materials pertinent and peculiar to his search for his ancestors.

The Kinte Library will fill that void. "The library," Jeffries said, "will speak to the spirit of Pan-Africanism. It will provide ready and solid documentation for scholars, writers and artists. It will have a saluatary effect upon Afro-Americans' self-esteem, and upon other people's respect and appreciation for them."

The library, Jeffries continues, will supply an unprecedented reconstruction of the generations of Americans of African descent, providing insights into Black social structures, migratory patterns, rural-urban patterns and cultural readaptations.

The scarcity of historic African printed records, according to Jeffries, is why the oral history part of the project is of paramount importance.

Several books and mongraphs are expected to be published when the project is completed. Researchers also anticipate worldwide attention will be brought to the Kinte Library Project as a corollary of the publication this September of Alex Haley's book, Roots.

Opposes New Jail Facility

guilty of any offense, and the balance of approximately 43 percent are handled as misdemeanors. Misdemeanants, when convicted, are subject only to minimum security if their sentences require custody.

Screening of jailed arrestees by a qualified staff, as rapidly as possible after booking into the County Jail, would offer an effective method of determining the levels of potential risk and establish figures on:

1. The amount of maximum security needed for serious risks;

2. The possible use of medium security such as B Wing at the Rehabilitation Center for less serious risks;

3. The effectiveness of a combination of release programs for others who are now normally held in the county jail.

The League believes that it would be in the best interests of the public for the Coounty Supervisors to authorize a qualified professional group to undertake this type of screening as soon as possible. The facts obtained over a limited time of 3 or 4 months can provide a solid base of facts upon which a new facility can be planned in keeping with county needs.

Macimum security construction costs are estimated at $15,000 to $20,000 per cell occupant, for facility construction only. Such expensive construction should be restricted to serious escape risks only. Medium security such as that at B Wing in the Rehabilitation Center, now housing up to thirty unsentenced men, provides custody at much less cost and could prove adquate for less serious risks. There are valide release programs used in other areas that have not been implemented in this county and which we believe should be tried prior to investing half of the county's revenue sharing in a detention facility.

The League is requesting that the supervisors set a separate public hearing on the proposed county jail. If this request is granted, public support will be needed for obtaining relevant facts for building a suitable jail at a reasonable cost.

Citizens Tell Of Need For Medical Facilities

Lapham and some 21 others.

During the meeting Lee Tolar pointed out the immediate need for assistance in combating drug addiction. "This can't wait while you sit talking about it," he said.

"This problem is affecting our youth. Kids at the age of 14 who are using two fixes a day. And the total is growing. By next year we will have an epidemic if we don't start now."

Tolar and the Young Adults for Action organization, a volunteer group, has been working within the city of Seaside to combat drug addiction and help get rid of the drug pushers in the Seaside Community.

When asked how much financial support he has received from either the city, county or state, Tolar replied: "Not one dime. We had to stop our work and go out in the community and beg food to feed the kids in the Kick Shack. We have no money," he said.

In Seaside, it was reported, there are only three doctors, one full time, and two part-time. Yet, there are 38,500 citizens residing in the city. This caused Congressman Burt Talcott to respond:

"I am embarrassed. There are more veternarians in Seaside than there are doctors. I shall do whatever I can to assist you in this endeavor."

Representatives from the county reported that the County had submitted in their budget, $500,000 to construct a facility for welfare and preventive medicine. To which Rev. H.H. Lusk replied that this was insufficient. He stated the city needed facilities for an out patient clinic. A place where there could be at least four beds to keep the patients overnight.

Supervisor Roger Poyner stated that although the County is planning a $500,000 facility, he wants to go farther and bring a treatment facility to Seaside.

"If it takes a million dollars to do it, then it will be a million. A primary health care facility is what we're concerned with, and I will be in there kicking and screaming to make sure it's done."

Former Mayor Lou Haddad took issue with Supervisor Poyner and pointed out that $500,000 would not be adequate and suggested the county spread the $3.2 million it proposed to spend on a new jail next year over a two year period and use half of it next year to build a medical facility for the Peninsula that would include 24-hour medical care.

Among the services planned for the new facility are immunization and family planning clinics, but no out patient clinic.

Mayor Joe Dolan said medical services are the number one social problem in this city, "This city is suffering from benign neglect. He stated that Seaside population of 38,500 is 20% of the County's population and the city is entitled to a higher proportion of county expenditures for medical facilities.

It was pointed out that there were five agencies planning something for Seaside. Rev. Lusk suggested the five different agencies meet and pool their plans and possibly come up with a facility that would satisfy the needs.

County Administrator McCauley reported that if the $500,000 is retained in the 1973-74 budget, the construction of a medical health facility would begin within a few months.

Another meeting is planned for today (Wednesday) at 2 p.m. at the Area Service Center, 1580 Del Monte Blvd.

LAGUNA GRANDE

In an earlier report I pointed out that the Coastal Commission created by Proposition 20 could spell doom to our Laguna Grande Project. On July 23rd, the Central Coastal Commission issued a permit, with stringent conditions, for the project.

On Friday, August 3, 1973, forty-eight Monterey Peninsula residents (eight from Seaside!) submitted an appeal to the California Coastal Zone Conservation Commission asking that the project be denied.

It has been brought to my attention that the Monterey County Foundation for Conservation is currently circulating a petition in support of the Laguna Grande Project. What is the Monterey County Foundation for Conservation? The stated purposes in the Articles of Incorporation of the Monterey County Foundation for Conservation are: (1) The primary purpose of this Corporation shall be to engage in and encourage educational activities in the field of conservation and land planning in Monterey County. (2) The general purpose of this Corporation shall be to study, promote and educate the general public as to ways and means of conserving and protecting the natural scenic beauty of Monterey County, and studying, determining and educating the public regarding ways and means of providing for orderly growth which does not interfere with scenic values in this County.

This is the verbatim wording on the petition being circulated:

"PETITION TO THE CALIFORNIA COASTAL ZONE CONSERVATION COMMISSION in support of the City of Seaside's Coastal Zone Permit No. P-3-73-78 granted by the Central Coast Regional Coastal Zone Conservation Commission on July 23, 1973, with conditions.

We, the Undersigned, concerned citizens, have reviewed both environmental and economical aspects of the City of Seaside's requested permit and do hereby reaffirm our staunch support of the granting of such permit by the Central Coast Regional Coastal Zone Conservation Commission, and request that the appeal filed be overruled and the permit stand as issued.

The proposed retail complex, as designed and approved, is environmentally compatible in its proposed location. The completion of this project will enable the City to financially implement the open space and park plan for the total Laguna Grande area, and assist in the removal of the blight of the unsightly junkyards adjacent to the site.

Further, this project will enable the City through its capital project program to fulfill its financial as well as physical commitment to the redevelopment program as well as to eventually provide 150 plus sorely needed jobs in addition to the major construction trades involved from the outset of the project.

Further, the Monterey County Foundation for Conservation, (Keith Evans, President, and Russ Hansen, Vice President) have endorsed the Laguna Grande Project as beneficial for the entire Monterey Peninsula because of the recreational facilities that will result."

I strongly endorse this petition and request that all concerned citizens also sigh the petition. Circulators will be announced by the Monterey County Foundation for Conservation.

As I See It

BY MEL VERCOE

Will Henry Kissinger be our next Secretary of State? Actually, Henry has been our Secretary of State for quite some time, and it must have been an oversight that he was not given the official title a long time ago. Or was it? He had a great deal more leeway in his actions than if he was Secretary of State. Whether this was good or bad won't be known for sure until many years from now when we can look back with superhindsight and see the whole mess more objectively.

William Rogers is apparently on his way out. The kindest thing we can say for him is that he physically occupied the position, and it is only conjecture that he was specifically selected not for what he could contribute but for the fact that he was not sharp enough to know what was going on and therefore would not get in the way.

Ed James was born and raised in Sacramento where he attended school, and graduated from Cordova Sr. High School in 1969. After completion of high school, Ed attended and graduated with an AA Degree from the American River College in 1971. After obtaining his associate degree, he then entered California State Univeristy in Sacramento, where after becoming interested in law enforcement, he majored in Criminal Justice. Ed attended California State University for only one year.

During his college years, Ed worked as a dispatcher for the Rancho Cordova Fire Department. For those who know the James family, one would assume that Ed would have stayed on at the Cordova Fire Department, because his father is a Captain, and one of his two brothers is a fireman-both of which are assigned to the Cordova Fire Department.

Gaining an interest in law enforcement during his college years, he applied for and was accepted as a patrolman on the Seaside Police Department in July of 1973, making him the newest member. He is also the newlywed of the department, as he was married on August 11, 1973. Ed will be receiving his basic police training at the Central Coast Counties Police Academy in Gilroy, and upon graduating he will receive his Basic Certificate from the State of California, Department of Justices' Commission on Peace Officer Standards and Training.

Guest Editorial

By Clint C. Porter

Kahlil Gibran said, in The Broken Wings: "Every beauty and greatness in this world is created by a single thought or emotion inside a man. Every thing we see today, made by past generations, was, before its appearance, a thought in the mind of a man or an impulse in the heart of a woman. The revolutions that shed so much blood and turned men's minds toward liberty were the idea of one man who lived in the midst of thousands of men. The devastating wars which destroyed empires were a thought that existed in the mind of an individual.

"The supreme teachings that changed the course of humanity were the ideas of a man whose genius separated him from his environment. A single thought built the Pyramids, founded the glory of Islam, and caused the burning of the library at Alexandria."

These words were written years ago, yet they still stand. Men are still placed on this earth destined to lead other men. These men can never be replaced. Their deeds will be remembered till the end of time. Their tasks could never be completed by other men. So, when all the songs are sung; when all the bells are rung; when the mere mentioning of a name makes everything alright, that name will be Andrew E. Barragan.

Andy came into this world as an "underdog." Born of Mexican descendants in Phoenix, he was raised on the wrong side of the track and never found the "middle of the road." He received an excellent education and attempted to use it to better the conditions all around him.

Andy built two restaurants on the peninsula, founded the Seaside Post, was instrumental in the purchase of the Seaside News-Sentinel and combined the two.

Last Friday at the services, Rev. Pitcock put the thought in mind that eased all pain. He said that we are what we wish. The tadpole seeing a frog, wished to be one, not realizing he already was. The caterpillar seeing a butterfly, wished to be one, not realizing he already was. We are what we wish. Having crossed over into the land where all things are present, where you shall never wish for anything else, would we ever want to return?

Letters to the Editor

Editor:

In his guest editorial of August 1 in the Post News-Sentinel, Lou Haddad wrote the following about the application submitted to the Coastal Commission on the K-Mart matter:

"Surprisingly though, Commissioner Julian Camacho was adamant against Seaside's application. He never wavered in his opposition during the entire hearing. His attitude was puzzling and it made one ponder his motive. Looking back over the recent Congressional election when he was an unsuccessful candidate, and the possibility that he may again run for that office, one can only conclude one of two things: Either he has recently become an avowed coastline protector and will oppose any development near the coast, or he holds a personal grudge against many of the city officials, past and present, who didn't support him in that election. We certainly hope it is the former."

Mr. Haddad also stated that "there is no doubt that K-Mart will provide many things for Seaside: sales tax dollars, eliminate blight AND JOBS."

I would like to suggest a third possibility. Maybe Mr. Camacho did not "just recently become an avowed coastline protector." He may very well share the concern of many citizens that Prop. 20 had a purpose that could hardly be served if its provisions were ignored every time it conflicted with a lucrative commercial venture.

As for "motives" quite possibly the furnishing of jobs for some of Seaside's unemployed has considerably less to do with the desire to over-ride Prop. 20 than the benfits for local merchants accruing from the increased spending power of said unemployed.

Editor:

Congress is just about to blow $40 Million of your hard earned tax dollars for the United Nations Environment Fund! This will cost you $2,300,000 in interest annually to boot.

Why in the name of common sense is Congress doing this when we don't have enough money for our very own environment? Maybe this stupidity can be headed off if every reader will sit right down now and write his Senators and Congressmen.

Sincerely,
C.C. Moseley

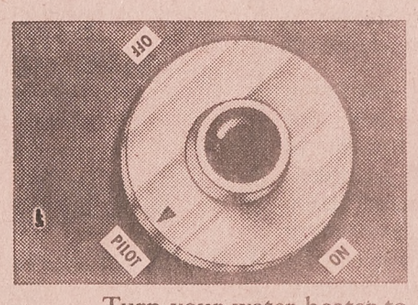
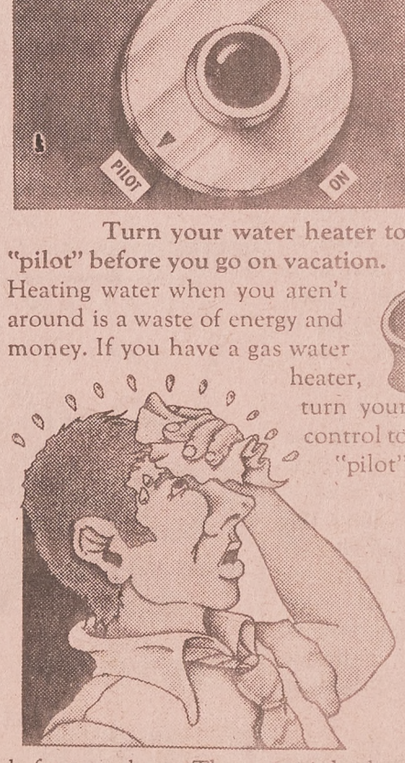
The President has asked for a 5% decrease in energy consumption.

Here are some solid summer tips from PG&E on how you can do your part to conserve energy–and also save yourself money.



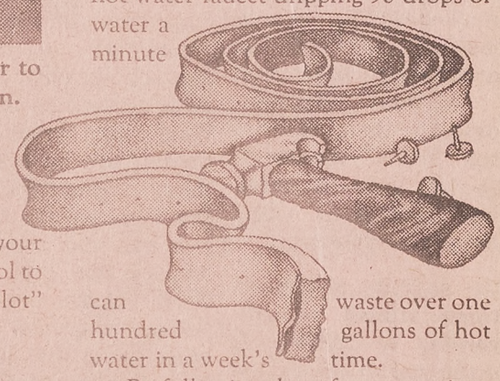
Turn your water heater to "pilot" before you go on vacation. Heating water when you aren't around is a waste of energy and money. If you have a gas water heater, turn your control to "pilot" before you leave. Then turn it back to "on" when you return. You'll have hot water in an hour or so.



Ventilate your attic. An attic fan can lower the temperature in an attic by as much as 50° and help ease the load on your cooling system. You'll have a cooler house for less energy.

Improve your insulation. Proper insulation and weatherstripping can help reduce the energy needed to heat and cool your house by as much as 45%.

Repair leaky faucets. One leaky hot water faucet dripping 90 drops of water a minute can waste over one hundred gallons of hot water in a week's time.



By following these few suggestions this summer you'll help conserve energy and also save money on your PG&E bill. For additional tips, ask any PG&E office for a copy of "The Meter-Minders Guidebook".

Monterey Peninsula Seaside — After Dark —

By Tom Nash

It occurred to me as I was putting this column together that a first-time reader might reach some far out conclusions about the people I include in the column. I know that the persons I name in my column have a complete understanding as to why they appear. IT IS BECAUSE THEY ARE OUTSTANDING, AND RATE VERY HIGH WITH ME. People I don't like, I focus no attention on. So when you see me "blasting" someone in my column, it is with the intent of letting you, the readers, know that in my opinion they are the greatest in the Seaside Community, or whatever community they come from.

I have literally taken people like Clint Porter apart, but let me assure you that Clint and I date back to the Sixties, when I first met him in the Oakland area. I had the distinction of making him a part of the staff of The POST Newspaper Group at that time, and recommended that he come to this area. I have not been sorry one day that I did this.

Others, such as old evil Willie Adams. We have been close friends for many years. Willie used to be a bartender at Bop City in San Francisco. This is where I met him for the first time, and he probably has forgotten it. I followed his career to Oakland, where he worked at Tiki Jacks, and then to The Lamppost. So we go back quite a ways.

Now, I am not saying that all the people appearing in the column go back that far, for some of them are not that old. But Willie and Clint have been around longer than water, and Clint is wearing out his second wig. Speaking of Willie, he has been around so long that even his wig is turning grey. (You didn't think that was his natural hair, did you?)

In my column last week, I talked about the misfortune that befell Pat Rogers of my office and Linda Sims. They became so affronted that they are picketing my office with signs that read: "Unfair to Women's Lib" and "Down with DOM (Dirty Old Men)." Well to set the record straight, they are due at work at 9 a.m. and Monday, if they show up with picket signs, I am going to tell them to go home and get a good night's rest so that they can be up bright and early Tuesday morning to be the first persons in the Unemployment Compensation Lines.

"T's" TIP FOR THE DAY: Listen, if you have not turned on to Alex Robinson on KZEN on Sunday afternoon from noon to 4 p.m., you have missed one of the greatest shows on the air. I call it: "Music For A Lazy Afternoon." Some of the finest sounds I have ever heard come pouring out on the airways. So tune in and turn on. Take it from "T."

Oh yes, each person I talk about is entitled to eaual time and space, so if they don't necessarily agree with me, they can write their comments and I will publish them in "Letters to the Editor". This applies to everyone except Willie Adams, for he has a "Nasty" mouth, and "diarrhea of the larnyx" (running off at the mouth). There is not enough space available to put his comments.

There are some big things planned for the period of the Jazz Festival, and the Fireside will be where the happenings will be. Some might fancy diggins will be happening, but more on this in the future. Just watch this column if you want to know what's happening.

The Retired Men's Social Club will Bar-B-Q another pig (the whole thing) on Sunday August 19 from 12 noon until 7 p.m. The purpose of the Bar-B-Q is to raise funds for the Teen Employment Program and the purchasing of school supplies for elementary school students, which the organization has been sponsoring for the last two years. The Bar-B-Q will be held on the Patio at 1637-B Del Monte Blvd. It will include a 300 pourd pig, ribs and beef. Donation is only $2 per cinner. The public is invited. Thrown in will be free hot dogs and Kool-aid for the kids.

I don't see how they can do this at that price, for I was in Safeway and meat was so high I had to get on a step ladder to even see it. I walked in one store that had one slab of ribs which sold for almost $6. Tears formed in my eyes for I love to wrap my lips around a chunk of ribs, bu Pork is too rich for my blood.

I was in Steve's Bar-B-Q to get some food. After I had enjoyed myself, I attempted to pay for the food with my favorite credit card (Playboy Club Membership Card) and the waitress there began immediately heating up a pan of hot grease, and looking for a funnel to pour it in my ear. The reason she wanted the funnel was so that she wouldn't waste a drop. She also got on the line and called The FBI, Provost Marshall at Ft. Ord, The Seaside Police and the warden at San Quentin. She stated I needed no trial. Finally Steve came in and I was able to get out of there. She is something else. Her name is --- no, I better not tell you.

The reason I had gone to Steve's in the first place, was because he has the best Bar-B-Q in town, but if I can't get food on my credit card, I just may have to go over to the "Greasy Spoon". I know I will not go there when she is on duty.

Bar-B-Que Is This Sunday

The Retired Men's Social Club will Bar-B-Q another pig, the whole thing, on Sunday, August 19, from 12 noon until 7 p.m. The purpose of the Bar-B-Q is to raise funds for the Teen Employment Program and beginning of school supplies for elementary school students, which they have been sponsoring for the last two years.

The Bar-B-Q will be held on the Patio at 1637 B Del Monte Blvd. It will include a 300 pound pig, ribs, beef. Donation is $2 per dinner. This is the same type annual Bar-B-Q that the club held last year at 1105 Olympia, Seaside.

The public is invited to attend. There will be free hot dogs and kool-aid for the kids. Come and enjoy it. Bring the whole family.

Survey Is Scheduled

During the week of August 20-24, the U.S. Bureau of the Census will conduct its regular monthly survey in this area on employment and unemployment, according to C. Michael Long, Director of the Bureau's Data Collection Center in Los Angeles.

Local households in the survey are part of the 50,000 across the country that have been scientifically selected to represent a cross section of all households.

The survey is taken by the Bureau for the U.S. Department of Labor. It provides monthly information on conditions in the labor force, a prime indicator of the economic health of the Nation. For example, results of the June survey showed the unemployment rate to be 4.8 percent, the first time in three years that it has been below 5 percent. Employment rose substantially (by 650,000) to a seasonally adjusted level of 84,7 million. Nationally, over the past year, employment has risen by 2.9 million.
